MONESSEN OFFICER FOUGHT SEVEN MEN FOR 15 MINUTES UNTIL HELP ARRIVED

Burgess Stewart had a busy court this morning, made up principally of common drunks, family quarrels, etc.

One man, Dominick Pandinie, received a crack on the head, while at the corner of Donner and Fifth street that laid him low for a minute, the blow coming so quickly that he though a bolt of lightning had descended from the heavens, although it was said the man who struck him was a dapper little blond Frenchman and Pandinie was a good sized man. The trouble began over the unknown buying some Salvation Army patriotic post cards, and walking up to Pandinie, asked him to salute the flag. The request being refused, a trip hammer blow fell on the jaw and down went Dominick and that was all there was of it, only the placing of a fine by the burgess of $10.00. The charge was brought under the head of disorderly conduct.

A very complicated case was before the burgess in which were mixed up four colored people from Castle Garden. The prisones were Edward Brown, Mazie Wilson, Leah Sholon and Joe Wilson, the latter just back from the work house after serving nine months for figting

The entire bunch was charged with disorderly conduct, it being alleged that Brown on Friday evening went to the Wilson home in seach of recreation for a while, and soon a rough house seems to have been started. There was lots of spicy evidence on both sides, and while the women cried, Wilson plead for a lawyer. It was claimed by Brown and his witnesses that Wilson struck him over the head with a chair and that a woman in the house cut him either with a razor or pair of scissors. This was denied, each side accused the other of lying and all admitted they had been drinking and evidence was brought pretty convincingly that liquor had been illegally sold in the Wilson home, but the thing became so tangled that the burgess held the case over until Tuesday morning when it is probable that Monessen's two best attorneys may be pitted against each other in one of the town's famous cases presenting plenty of good material for sarcasm and sympathy, mixed with a bit of legal lore. In the meantime, all four prisoners are held until Tuesday morning.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Leah Scholon were released on forfeit, but Brown, the prosecutor is still a prisoner.

Frank Barren and Stephen Goddis were mixed up with a little tanglefoot at a Third street club Saturday, and when Cable arrested Barren, Goddis interfered, assaulting Cable from the rear. Cable seeing he was taken at a disadvantage, let the first man go and nabbed Goddis. This was near his home and Cable rushed him up stairs in hope of getting the missing man. Getting up stairs, six other men attacked Cable and one woman interferred but Martin held the whole posse at bay fifteen minutes until a police call was sent and a squad of officrs went to his rescue. Goddis put up his fight on the ground that the officer could not take him without a warrant. But he and his friend were taken all the same and each paid a fine of $5.00.

FIGHTING 10th BOYS FALL ON BATTLE FIELD

Word was received yesterday from the war department by Mrs. D. D. Klingensmth of Greensburg, that her son, Sergt. Maj. Max Klingensmith, aged 30, had died in a French hospital.

Sergt. Klingensmith was wounded several weeks ago, and the telegram telling of his death contained the information that pneumonia developed after he entered the hospital He had been shot through the cheek. He was a member of the headquarters company of the One Hundred and Tenth Regiment. He enlisted shortly after the war broke out. For a number of years he had been employed as stenographer in the office of the district attorney of Westmoreland county.

Eight more boys of the Connellsville district, members of Company D, of the 110th Regiment, have fallen in battle, according to the war department telegams to their families. The men are:

Clarence W. Reagan, Connellsville, aged 33, a son of John H. Reagan a Civil War veteran.

James E. Collins, Connelsville, aged 21, a brother of John Collins.

Robert M. Gray, Dunbar, aged 21, son of Mrs Robert Gray; a brother, Alva D. Gray, aso is in Co D.

William G. Younkin, aged 23, a son of Mrs. Lucinda Younkin of Snydertown, a suburb; Younkin also has a brother, Warren D. Younkin, with Co. D.

Mike Klosso, Leisenring, a son of John Klosso

Loyd Fred Daniels, South Connellsville, aged 21, son of David R. Daniels; he is a former Connellsvile football start and served on the Mexican border.

Wiliam W. Hardy, Dunbar, aged 22, son of Wiliam R. Hardy.

Herman J. Carr, Dunbar, aged 21, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carr.

New Wcolesale House

J. Ress has rented the room in the Parkview building, 605 Schoonmaker avenue, and opened an exporting, importing and wholesale business, and will deal principally in fine cigars, tobaccos, cigarettes, etc. Mr Ress has been a resident of Monessen several months, having come here from Racine, Wisconsin, where he was engaged in the same business. He is well versed and being affable, gentlemanly and courteous there seems no reasonable doubt of his business success in Monessen and vicinity as the goods he handles are all of the highest quality.

Tuesday and Wednesday—Wm. Fox special presents Wm. Farnum in the masterpiece of Victor Hugo, "Les Miserables," a wonderful story of the reform of a criminal and of life in the Paris underworld. 62-tf

AFTER THE HUN WHO KILLED JOE

When David Thomas a U. S. Marine from Billings, Mont., finished out his four years as a sea-soldier, he bade farewell to his bunkie, Joseph S. Wilkes of Salt Lake, City, whom he had induced to enlist in the devil dog outfiet.

"You go to school, Dave," said Joe. "I will get you a Hun. But if they get me, it is up to you to get one for me."

So Dave went back to school, and Joe went to France with the marines One day Dave saw Joe's death reported in the casualty list

"I am not afraid of being killed, but I am afraid of being a coward," said Dave, as he signed up for another "hitch" at the Marine Corps recruiting station. He is now on his way to get that Hun for Joe.

Meeting to Help Slavish Army

The Slavish people had a big meeting in the Star theatre Sunday night for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the Slavish army now engaged with the allies in the world war against Germany.

The auditorium was crowded and enthusiasm ran high, and there was nothing lacking in the way of patriotism.

There were speakers from out of town and the meeting was very much of a success.

LEIHGEBER HOME ON SECOND STREET ALMOST DESTROYED BY FIRE SATURDAY NIGHT

At 10:30 o'clock Saturday night fire was discovered in the home of Mrs. Amelia Leihgeber, 356 Second street.

The fire department responded quickly at the call of the Page mill whistle, but when the tuck arrived, the interior of the building was a roaring furnace, and there was little hope of saving it, as it was a three story frame structure and burned rapidly so the firemen put their attention to saving the adjoining buildings, Jacob Knecht living on one side, while the German hall is on the opposite side. Both buildings were damaged but not seriously.

The Donora department responded and gave valuable assistance.

The Leihgeber home was badly damaged in the rear part, but we learn the family is living in the front rooms.

The fire started in the kitchen on the second floor in the rear of the building, and there is no knowledge as to how the fire started.

There is $2,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on household furniture.

NOTES FROM LOCAL FOOT BALL CAMP

Following is the second letter that has been received by the Independent from the boys of the Monessen High school football squad in camp at Point Marion. We publish it with pleasure so that the town people may know how the boys are progressing:

Thursday morning the football team was put through its first real scrimmage and several of the new men showed up well. Of these the work of H. Thomas and A. Thomas was especially good Of the regular backs who were kept on the offensive, Lewis and Bumbaugh smashed through the line for long gains, while Allison made several brilliant runs around end. On the line Warman and Hoffman showed to the best advantage especially on the defensive.

During the practice several new formations were tried out and they were handled exceptionally well considering the length of time the squad has been in training. Hood, who made his letter as a sub at right end last year, is handing forward passes well and will probably earn a regular berth in that position. Lear, the big 215 pound guard of last year, is likely to be lined up in his old position when the season starts.

It has not yet been fully decided who will do the punting this year Capt. Lewis and Bumbaugh are practicing daily and have already shown much improvement. It is altogether likely that the former will be chosen as he is showing the best form at present writing.

The squad is working hard to get in the best form possible before the end of the week as a number of friends and relatives of the members of the squad are expected at that time, and this interest in the team shown by the people of the town is highly appreciated by the members of the camp and all who can possibly do so are urged to pay a visit and see the team in training.

Ford Car Takes Turn Over a Hill

A Ford car owned by Frank Jankoski of Indiana avenue, driven by Alex Jankiski, and containing five other men went over an embankment near the Fritz farm about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The party was passing a Jewish picnic at the Fritz farm, and when near the grove, the car ran too close to the embankment and turned over. No one was hurt much but the top, radiator and windshield were considerably damaged.

Dead From Gas Fumes

Two little girls are dead and a third is seriously affected as a result of being overcome by gas in a bathroom of a neighbor's home in New Castle, Saturday. The dead are Anna Bolsic, aged 8, a daughter of George Bolsic and Mary Bolsic aged 7, a sister. Stella Bolsic, aged 14, a sister, was overcome by the fumes.

The bodies of the three girls were found by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bolsic, who, having become alarmed at the absence of the children, started a search. The children had gone to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. George Hourny, to take a bath. This was their custom, as there was no bathroom in their own home. Doctors were called as soon as they were found and it was discovered that the two younger girls were dead. The older girl, although unconscious, was still living yesterday afternoon and it is believed that she will recover. Defective gas fixtures are blamed.

JUST AMERICAN

Just today we chanced to meet—
Down upon the crowded street;
And I wondered whence he came,
What was once his nation's name.

So I asked him, "Tell me true,
Are you a Pole or Russian Jew
English, Scotch, Italian, Russian,
Belgian, Spanish, Swiss, Moravian,
Dutch or Greek, or Scandinavian."

Then he raised his head on high,
As he gave me this reply:

In my soul as man to man,
I am just American."

Time-Saving Roads for Food Delivery as Important as Quick-Firing Guns

By E. B. HOUSE, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.

As the war in Europe progresses and this country speeds up more and more in production, a continually greater strain is going to be placed upon our transportation facilities. The fact of the matter is that this whole war is a contest in transportation, and if our transportation breaks down for any cause we will then fail to fulfill our promises to our allies.

What is needed most at this time in highway construction is a program of construction whereby roads of economic value to the nation will be laid out, surfaced and maintained. We can at this time temporarily dispense with the construction of scenic routes. They can be deferred until after the war. But we should have roads over which a maximum amount of farm produce can be hauled to the cities at a minimum expense. We should have roads which will relieve as much as possible the strain under which the railroads are laboring.

Local associations of merchants and manufacturers can do effective work in the various states by mapping out a program of road construction that will serve a real war need.

Before the war ends much of the freight of the country will be transported by motor trucks over our highways; consequently the idea that seems to be prevalent at this time in some places that road construction should be descontinued on account of war conditions seems to be a point not well taken. Road construction should be hastened at this time, for we are going to use them, not only as war measures but as peace measures. Time saving, durable roads are now as important as quick-firing guns, and it is high time to speed up construction in order to quicken food delivery.

Conservation of Children's Clothing During Heated Period of Summer

By MRS. MAX WEST of Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor

Some sorts of war saving require special watchfulness on the mother's part to guard the children from possible harm. For instance, food substitutes must be made with great care in order that the children's food may still contain all the elements necessary to growth. But with clothes in summer it is different. In hot summer weather it is a distinct advantage to the child's health to be dressed lightly. And the saving of textiles and leather is an important consideration now. Wool must be saved, because it is needed for the blankets, underwear and uniforms of our fighting forces. Cotton is needed for hospitals and many other uses. The need to supply leather for the army's use is, of course, imperative.

In selecting fabrics for clothing it is not entirely a matter of finding a cheaper and less needed substitute. Old goods must be brought again into service, turned, cleaned, washed, dyed and made over. When an old garment is returned to usefulness actual saving of wool or cotton is effected, and in addition manufacturers will be able to concentrate their output on goods for army uses because of the decreased demand for unnecessary materials.

The purchasing of novelties, fancy fabrics and elaborate garments tends to withdraw from war uses not only needed materials but labor, especially skilled laborers needed for other branches of production.

Now, in summer large savings of woolen materials of every sort, including fancy and light-colored wools used for knitting, can be accomplished. Children can be clothed practically entirely in cotton for several months in the year. Wise mothers will make children's summer clothing as simply as possible, thus reducing the work required for washing and ironing and increasing the child's comfort.

Children like to wear barefoot sandals in summer. Their use saves leather and stockings. Half soling and mending makes shoes go much further. Further saving of leather can be effected by using canvas shoes in summer.

SPECIAL MESSENGER SERVICE
How many times in the past few months have you found it necessary to say
"Well, now we have had those goods on the road for 10 days or more they ought to be in any time now. You know it's awfully hard to get a through these days." etc., etc.
Five minutes later that same customer may come out of "Bill Pep" place with the very articles you ordered, but didn't have.
Don't let them stray. Good customers are hard to get—harder to hold. More money is invested in goods—smaller margin than at any time since you entered business.
Bill Pep's goods were delivered to Jos. Samuels this morning and received them this afternoon. What do you say? Just tell the salesman —"Send 'em by Messenger.

GET AFTER THESE DOLLARS

OUR town should get all of the trade in our trade area. We can't worry about our neighboring town's business. We have enough to do to take care of our own. But we should get all of our own. How about these dollars that are getting away from us? How about these dollars that are lipping through our fingers? We have the goods. We have the values. Our prices are right. And yet there is a lot of money slipping away from us constantly. The best way to get after this money is to tell the truth about the man or the system that is taking it away. Let Him Live

As long as flowers the perfume give,
So long I'd let the Kaiser live—
Live and live for a million years
With nothing to drink but Belgian tears,
With nothing to quench his awful thirst,
But the salted brine of a Scotchman's curse
I would let him live a dinner each day,
Served from silver on golden tray—
Served from things both dainty and sweet—
Served with everything but things to eat.
And I'd make him a bed of silken sheen,
With costly liners the between,
With covers of down and filets of lace,
And downy pillows held in place;
Yet when to its comfort he would yield
It would stink of the rot of the battlefield.
And blood and bone and brains of men
Should cover him, slather him and then
His pillows should clay with the rotten clay—
Clay fom the grave of a soldier boy,
And while God's stars their vigils keep,
And while the waves the white sands sweep
He should never, never, never sleep
And through all the days, through all the years.
There should be an anthem in his ears
Ringing and singing and never done
From the edge of light to the set of sun.
Moaning and moaning and moaning still—
An armless, eyeless Belgian child
And I would build him a castle by the sea
As lovely a castle as ever could be:
Then I'd show him a ship from over the sea
As fine a ship as ever could be,
Laden with water cold and sweet,
Laden with everything good to eat;
Yet scarce does she touch the silvered sands,
Scarce may he reach his eager hands,
Then a hot and hellish hell
Should change his heaven into hell:
And though he'd watch on the wave-swept shore.
Our Lusitania should rise no more.
In "No Man's Land," where the Irish fell.
I'd start the Kaiser a private hell:
I'd jab him, stab him, give him gas;
In every wound I'd pour ground glass;
I'd scorch him out where the brave boys died—
Out past the lads they crucified.
In the fearful gloom of his living tomb
There is one thing I'd do before I was through:
I'd go to him sing, in a stirring manner,
The wonderful words of "The Star Spangled Banner."

THE INDEPENDENT WANT ADS FOR RESULTS

A STORY OF GERMAN TACTICS

Grewsome details of the fiendish fighting tactics through which the German armies have earned the disgust of the world, were offered yesterday by Dr F H Howard, described as a member of the Chamber of Commerce of St Louis, who arrived at an Atlantic port in the uniform of a Salvation Army relief worker.

Dr. Howard returns to give suggestions for relief work to war charities and commercial organizations of St Louis, and his information includes the first instance reported of an Ohio soldier crucified by Germans. Dr. Howard described the Boche as the most merciless, unsportsmanlike and vicious fighter in history, and gave instances of three traits, coupled with the most absurd examples of Hun stupidity.

Dr. Howard said: "I believe the only authenticated instance of crucifixion which has developed during the recent drive of the Americans was that of Sergt A E. Cole of 49 Prospect street, East Liverpool, O. His body was taken down by his own brother, A. C Cole, who was a private in the same company with him.

"On July 21 the Americans in a certain sector were hammering back the Germans with terrific force and daring Sergt. Cole went over the top and was in the thick of the fighting. The following day Private Cole, who had been on a detail the day before, was fighting his way by wrecked building with others of h company when he saw the body Sergt Cole, with German bayone through his hands and feet, dangli from the side of the building. I had been dead many hours.

"The soldiers took down the bod put it into the house and drove with such ardor after the fleeing Ge mans that they were subsequen cited for valor. They made the Ge mans harvest them pay for that pie of fiendishness.
